

CHRIS HORTON

Chris started playing trumpet at age 7 and decided this was the way to live when he met Al Hirt at age 12. He has played with numerous Atlanta and DC bands and on stages with BJ Thomas, The Spinners, Cab Calloway, Holiday on Ice, The Duke Pearson jazz band, Ringling Brothers/Barnum & Bailey, Circus World/ Sarasota and is a vet of 15 Broadway shows and touring companies. Chris was first call on lead trumpet under Columbia Artist's Touring Division and has served as professor of contracts, copyright, and artist management at The Art Institute of Atlanta while performing regularly in the Atlanta area.

LAURENCE COHEN

A native Chicagoan, Laurence grew up just a few miles from where the legendary Chicago trombonist and idol James Pankow lived. He began playing trombone at the ripe age of 12 years old and learned from his trombonist father and continued playing & studying music at University of IL. Just goes to show you that an Engineering major can make it happen in the jazz world too.

THOM JENKINS

Thom is a woodwind player and percussionist who grew up listening to the music of Chicago. Thom has a music degree from Western Carolina University and has performed in 14 different countries....so far!

MICHAEL CAHEN

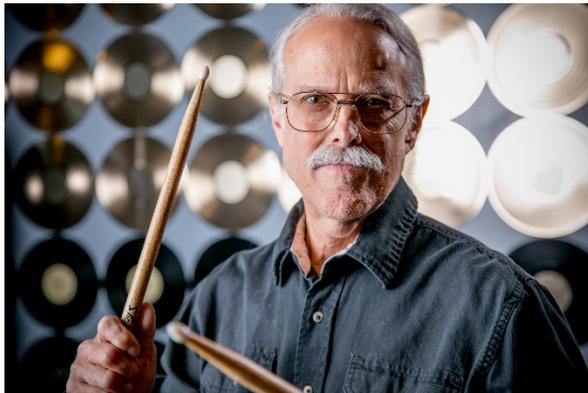

Growing up in a musical family in Richmond, VA, Michael was destined to earn a living as a musician, singer/songwriter and guitarist. Having toured extensively in the southeast, Michael has a soulful lead and back up harmony, playing lead and rhythm guitar ...you won't find him playing on anything but a Gibson or Fender.

ERIC GANT

A Voice major from University of GA, Eric is a multi-instrumentalist playing Bass Guitar, Guitar, Piano, Ukulele and Mandolin. Eric is originally from Columbia, SC.

TOM DAVIS

Drumming for over four decades, Tom has toured the US, Europe, and the Middle East and opened for The Guess Who, Aerosmith, The Steve Miller Band, ELO and other international iconic groups of the 70's & 80's. Most recently, Tom has played with members of Original Parliament and the B.B. King band and is now enjoying working with the great songbook of Chicago Transit Authority in Chi-Town!

ASHER MCKINNEY

Asher has performed live music professionally for over 20 years and having played with a long list of 'greats'....Barry Richman, Harvey Scales, Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame member "Shady Grady" Thomas and on stages across the southeast and in Atlanta. Asher won a music scholarship to West Georgia State University and loves to play grand pianos at private parties and house concerts. While taking requests from all genres of music, Asher's favs are singing the Beatles and the Doors catalog. Asher is currently working on his own compilation album featuring his awesome mentors Barry Richman, "Shady Grady" Thomas, & Randall Rivers.
